7 KEYS to Prevent a Toxic Work Environment By Creating a HEALTHY One:

A Guide to Increase Your Profit, Productivity and Power

HONOR
EVERYONE'S JOURNEY

ESTABLISH EXCELLENCE
AS YOUR NORM

ADVANCE THE CULTURE WITH INNOVATION

- We are all multi-dimensional beings with past experiences, current circumstances, and a desire for more. Capitalizing on your staff's holistic health and professional potential is an investment, which ultimately influences your client's experience. Making space and time for hard conversations and allowance to grieve and celebrate while also making NO room for bullying are vital. It also encourages maximum performance and loyalty to your business goals.

- Making a choice that mediocrity is not an acceptable standard is key! This is made evident by having clear, easy to access "processes to success™" which in turn validates your desire for quality products and services. Supportive workplaces that trust the expertise of their staff and reward exceptional performance will surpass the mark of expectation every time. Combining this with a continuous quality improvement team with relevant data that is valued and used will take you even further.

- Empowering and encouraging employees to find creative ways to perform tasks activates brain power, increases confidence and healthy competition. Supporting professional development and allowing your staff to grow with the growth of your company is essential. Intentional efforts to transition the mental cars out of the "parking lot" into ongoing operations fosters trust and signals that employees' voices are being heard and valued. They then feel as an investor and devote more energy to your success.

7 KEYS to Prevent a Toxic Work Environment By Creating a HEALTHY One:

A Guide to Increase Your Profit, Productivity and Power

LEAD WITH VULNERABILITY AND JOY

- By your example to be your authentic self you set the tone for your staff to do the same. This minimizes fear, increases opportunities for support and multiplies the impact of positive energy on your internal operations. Celebrating achievement is infectious and only adds to your collective success. Having open feedback loops and identified margins of error for each role and task also enables you to establish a culture of professional bliss.

THRIVE WITH EFFICIENCY
AND PASSION

- With tested systems and tracking of relevant data you can produce your desired outcome. However, making a strategic choice to move beyond maintaining to thriving will inaugurate a freedom zone for your team to flourish. In this realm, haphazard performance becomes a thing of the past. As your team establishes an alignment between their personal and professional mission and goals, that synergy will birth a spirited effort that you've never seen!

HEAR WITH THE INTENTION TO ACT

- Transparent and "easy to access" processes to identify the needs, desires and struggles of your team should take place in both virtual and face-to-face formats on an ongoing basis. Recognize that the response may be explicit or implied, thus the ultimate goal is listening and responding to your newfound or confirmed understanding. Remember, time of response equals value of what is heard for your team so move swiftly.

YIELD TO THE AWESOMENESS OF YOU

- Albeit team dynamics are crucial, you must also allow individuals to uniquely shine and demonstrate their genius. We all need to be validated and appreciated for the time, talents and treasures that we offer which ultimately foster success. Institutionalize formal processes to praise team members as you'd be surprised at what a simple "Thank YOU" will do. While doing so, don't forget that YOU matter too.
